

Edelweiss (Leontopodium alpinum) is the national flower of Switzerland, and is often called the queen of Alpine flowers. It is a protected flower that only grows at altitudes between 1,500 and 3,000 meters. To survive the extremes Alpine conditions (i.e., temperature, altitude, solar radiation and drought) Edelweiss has developed special defensive mechanisms that give it unique anti-oxidant and healing properties. It is ideal as a natural anti-aging ingredient as well as an ultraviolet sun-protector in fine cosmetics. It also soothes the skin and improves its hydration and elasticity.

CHOLLEY Edelweiss Cream is a high performing antioxidant and anti-aging cream for normal, mixed, and dry skin.

It takes full advantage of the anti-aging and anti-wrinkle properties of Edelweiss.

It has been clinically tested for full spectrum UVA and UVB sun protection and has proven its efficacy as a perfect protective day cream. CHOLLEY Edelweiss Cream does not contain parabens, and with its delicate perfume and exquisite structure it is ideal for an active life style.

It enhances skin's texture, elasticity and firmness while maintaining the hydrolipid equilibrium of the epidermis.
