

Dull Skin, Oxygen Deprived (Asphyxiated) Skin

Common features:

- The skin appears dull and opaque due to build-up of dead cells.
- A tired, grayish look that indicates poor oxygenation and nourishment.
- It presents a rough and poorly hydrated epidermis
- Blackheads are often present, and they can be numerous.

Contributing factors:

- Inadequate or improper care of the skin
- Smoking or living in a polluted environment
- Physical stress and fatigue
- Lack of exercise and inadequate exposure to clean fresh air
- Hormonal factors (e.g. menopause)
- Use of certain medicines
- An unbalanced diet
